

2017 Convention

Golmar celebrated its annual convention on November 22 and 23.

This was attended by the commercial network, the technical sales and export department, as well as the executive team. The protagonism was for the wide renewal of the product, technological evolution and the renewed aspect that the company presents in its web environment. There was time for teamwork dynamics and a dinner in a joyful atmosphere at Barcelona's Port Olímpic, which will certainly contribute to greater fluidity and teamwork performance. The event concluded with an analysis of this year's results, the evolution of the great growth experienced by the company in recent years and the presentation of the new challenges that will be facing in 2018.

All of this led to an atmosphere of great optimism and the conviction of having great commercial opportunities.
